AREIM's Environmental Policy

Areim is a real estate fund manager and advisory firm specializing in commercial properties. Areim has a value-add investment strategy. All properties in our portfolio have a business plan from day one which states the highest and best use of the properties and how we will go about achieving that. The business plan is updated as more knowledge is gained about the property and as changes occur in the market.

Areim is an environmentally conscious company. The environmental effects of our real estate portfolio are much larger. Buildings account for about 40% of Sweden's total energy consumption. We, as property owner, have a great responsibility to contribute via the implementation of long-term and sustainable solutions.

Areim is committed to actively contributing to sustainable development of real estate by

- Involving our employees in environmental efforts
- Educating our employees about environmental and energy issues
- Following current environmental laws and regulations and keeping our employees continuously updated
- Requiring energy and environmentally friendly procurement
- Being efficient with natural resources and energy
- Working with recycling and reusing of materials
- Working to prevent pollution
- Annually developing and monitoring the energy and environmental targets for our business
- Certifying development projects in line with one of the acknowledged certifications available on the Swedish market (LEED, BREEAM, Green Building and Miljöbyggnad)

The environmental impact on our daily business is small, but environmental awareness must begin with each individual. Thus, within our office we try to

- reduce our consumption of energy and materials
- buy renewable energy
- choose organic and environmental labelled products and services
